

Storage Tanks

At Pattison's we will custom design your pumping systems to meet your farm requirements

We used Pattison for setting up our tank yard. They suggested a plumbing layout and then supplied all the parts. We put everything together and have been very happy with the functionality of the system. They are great to work with and have parts available when needed. I would recommend dealing with Pattison for your liquid fertilizer parts.

I recently purchased a "Blend Station" for my fertilizer tanks from Pattison Liquid Systems. Phil came out to the farm and was extremely helpful in designing the set up. This was the first year of use for the system and everything worked great with no leaks whatsoever. No more hooking and unhooking gas pumps to circulate the tanks or to move product around. Now I can do everything from the filling of the storage tanks, circulating the product and moving product out with the swing of a few valves. It is a simple design and was very cost effective. As one trucker who was delivering product said "this is a Cadillac set up, heck it is better than what we have". I couldn't be happier with how it all turned out.
